In any organization, failure to protect personal information can increase the risk of a privacy breach which can lead to things such as financial loss, reputational harm, fraud, or identity theft. While LANGUI cannot guarantee that a privacy breach will not occur, LANGUI will make every effort to prevent such occurrences by implementing the above security safeguards.

LANGUI also ensures that its employees, independent contractors, agents, partners and service providers with access to personal information are made aware of the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of personal information.

Subject to any contractual restrictions as between LANGUI and an Organization, LANGUI will only store and process your personal information in Canada. This Privacy Policy will be updated if cross border transfers occur in the future.

Your payment information, which is not collected by LANGUI, is subject to the privacy policies and terms of use of those third party processors, who may store such information outside of Canada. While such information is outside of your country of residence, it is subject to the law of the country in which it is held, and may be subject to disclosure to the governments, courts, law enforcement agencies or regulatory agencies of such other country, pursuant to the laws of such country. In the event that LANGUI does need to transmit your personal information across international borders for processing, LANGUI will have measures in place to ensure that during such cross-border transfers the personal information is subject to appropriate safeguards in accordance with data protection laws. These measures typically include contractual safeguards stipulating the confidentiality of the information and the purposes for which it is to be used; however, LANGUI cannot contract out of the applicable laws in a jurisdiction.

10. Retention of Personal Information

LANGUI will only keep personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the relevant purposes set out in this Privacy Policy and in order to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations. To determine the appropriate retention period for your information, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the information, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your information, the purposes for which we process your information and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

If your LANGUI account becomes inactive, you are solely responsible for exporting any such information from your LANGUI account that you may wish to retain.

14. Cookies and Similar Technologies

The Service uses “cookies”, which are small text files placed on your computer or other device when you visit a website. When you visit the site again, the cookie allows that site to recognize your browser. Cookies may store user preferences and other information.

There are three main types of cookies:

- (b) Persistent Cookies record information about your preferences and are stored in your browser cache or mobile device and remain on your device between browsing sessions. For example, a persistent cookie may be used on a website to remember your log-in details so you will not need to enter those details each time you visit that website; and
- (c) Third Party Cookies placed by someone other than us which may gather data across multiple websites or sessions.

We use the below listed cookies to perform the following functions:

- (a) Strictly Necessary / Technical Cookies that are essential to enable you to move around a website and use its features. You cannot withdraw your consent to the use of these types of cookies because without them, the Service cannot be provided.

The parties that set these third-party cookies can recognize your device both when it visits the website in question and also when it visits certain other websites.
- (c) Functional Cookies that allow a website to remember choices you make, recognize you when you return and to personalize content.
- (d) Targeting / Advertising Cookies that track browser habits and used to deliver targeted (interest-based) advertising based on your browsing activities and interests. See Section 16 on how you may opt out of targeting advertising.
